

Athens. L.M.

"O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?" --Ps. 80:4.

F# Minor. Isaac Watts, 1719.

R.T. Kelley, 2011.

1. Great God, whom heav'n - ly hosts o - bey, How long shall we la-ment and pray,
2. Re - turn, al - might - y God, re - turn, Nor let Thy bleeding vine-yard mourn;

1. Great God, whom heav'n - ly hosts o - bey, How long shall we la-ment and pray,
2. Re - turn, al - might - y God, re - turn, Nor let Thy bleeding vine-yard mourn;

1. Great God, whom heav'n - ly hosts o - bey, How long shall we la-ment and pray,
2. Re - turn, al - might - y God, re - turn, Nor let Thy bleeding vine-yard mourn;

1. Great God, whom heav'n - ly hosts o - bey, How long shall we la-ment and pray,
2. Re - turn, al - might - y God, re - turn, Nor let Thy bleeding vine-yard mourn;

And wait in vain Thy kind re - turn? How long shall Thy fierce an - ger burn?
Turn us to Thee, Thy love re - store, We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

And wait in vain Thy kind re - turn? How long shall Thy fierce an - ger burn?
Turn us to Thee, Thy love re - store, We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

And wait in vain Thy kind re - turn? How long shall Thy fierce an - ger burn?
Turn us to Thee, Thy love re - store, We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

And wait in vain, in vain Thy kind re - turn? How long shall Thy fierce an - ger burn?
Turn us to Thee, to Thee, thy love re - store, We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.